

RESEARCH VISITOR'S AGREEMENT

Any research visitor requires written permission from the Host (and/or Principal Investigator).

This Visitor Agreement does not include any requirement for hiring or future contract, and does not generate relations of legal-labor nature or service. For the avoidance of doubt, this Training Agreement is not a Contract between the trainee and the Champalimaud Foundation.

During the visit, the guest agrees to:

- Comply with CCU health, hygiene and safety regulations; follow all company rules and all instructions from the designated host. observe all regulations for safety and accident prevention, and to handle all tools, machines, devices and materials carefully;
- Maintain the necessary confidentiality concerning the data, information or knowledge, information, elements, methods or procedures acquired or observed during the internship
- Complete the ethical and professional scepticism requirements when applicable and access to restricted areas (facility and digital) must be validated by respective hosts.
- Acknowledge any intellectual property rights resulting from its activity at the Champalimaud Foundation as well as the Champalimaud Foundation's right to proceed with all the patent registration.

The host agrees to provide the guest with appropriate support and conditions throughout the duration of the visit.

Each party of this agreement shall exonerate the other from any civil liability for personal damages suffered as a result of performance of the research related tasks, provided such damages are not covered by the CCU civil liability insurance. The guest must present proof of being insured for personal health and personal work related accidents (on his own or through his affiliation institution) to be attached to this agreement.

The parties hereby declare to have taken note of and accepted the terms and conditions set out in the present agreement. This Visitor Agreement may not be altered or amended except if agreed by both parties and approved by the Research Direction and/or Champalimaud Foundation.

The Visitor Agreement is to be sent by the Research HR Office to the visitor and host, and all info is to be collected as if for any other member of the Champalimaud Research Programme.
